

Developer Newsletter

This newsletter covers the Symphony Developer Certification, the Bot Developer Kit (BDK), and the first-ever digital Symphony Hackathon for French clients on July 1st.

Symphony Developer Certification is now Live!

Become a certified Symphony developer through the Symphony Developer Training Center.

Earning a Symphony Certification is a significant way to validate your Symphony skills. When you become certified, you join an elite group of developers and boost your career as demand for Symphony experts continues to grow.

Follow the course materials to accelerate your learning experience while progressing through the course levels:

- Beginner: Symphony Development Fundamentals
- Intermediate: Developing Bots and Apps with Symphony
- Advanced: Symphony Advanced Development (coming September '20)

To start your Developer Certification journey visit the Training Center.

Developer Newsletter

Symphony Bot Developer Kit (BDK)

The Symphony Bot Developer Kit (BDK) is now available to download. It helps developers expedite their development journey in building production-grade Symphony Bots and Extension Applications.

This kit is made up of a collection of tools that take care of best practices:

- Command Line Interface (CLI): for generating project scaffold
- Bot SDK: provides baseline best practices for handling commands, message templating, Symphony Elements, webhook notifications, third-party authentication / REST APIs and many more
- UI Toolkit: a library of UI components for building application views in Extension Application projects

Learn more about how to use the BDK through completing courses in our Symphony Developer Training Center.

Developer Newsletter

Register: Symphony Digital Hackathon 2020

Symphony will be hosting its first-ever digital hackathon on July 1, 2020 for developers based in France. The hackathon will be a full-day event conducted in French. Teams of 1-5 persons can join and work to win prizes and a chance to join the worldwide hackathon in early 2021. More information can be found here.

Stay tuned for digital hackathons planned for London and the U.S. East Coast in the fall.

Developer Events

Make sure to join one of our Symphony Developer Meetup Groups to receive updates on upcoming developer events near you!

Share with a Colleague

Know a colleague that will find the developer newsletter useful? Help them subscribe to the newsletter now.

The Developer Documentation found on developers.symphony.com and the instructions provided in this Symphony Developer Newsletter (collectively, the "Symphony Materials") are each provided "as is" without warranty of any kind (including without limitation, any warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose or non-infringement), and as such shall not be considered a "Symphony Service," as such term is used and defined in the services agreement between your firm and Symphony Communication Services, LLC ("Symphony"). This means, among other things, that (I) Symphony makes no representations or warranties, express or implied, with respect to any matter relating to the Symphony Materials; (II) Symphony is under no obligation to provide support or maintenance for the Symphony Materials; and (III) Symphony disclaims all liability for or with respect to your or your firm's access to or use of the Symphony Materials, and under no circumstances and under no legal theory, whether in tort, contract, or otherwise, will Symphony be liable to you or your firm (i) for any indirect, special, incidental, or consequential damages, (ii) for punitive damages, (iii) for damages for lost profits, lost sales, or business interruption of any character, in each case even if you have been advised, knew or should have known of the possibility of such damages. The Symphony Materials are subject to change without notice and are for information and illustrative purposes only. None of the Symphony Materials is, and should not be regarded as "investment advice" or as a "recommendation" regarding a course of action, including without limitation as those terms are used in any applicable law or regulation. The Symphony Materials are provided with the understanding that with respect to the Symphony Materials you will make your own independent decision with respect to any course of action in connection herewith, as to whether such course of action is appropriate or proper based on your own judgment and your specific circumstances and objectives.